

OHio, What A Night Information Sheet

Join us for an unforgettable evening honoring the innovative spirit of Ohio!

"OHio, What A Night" will unite leaders in biotech, business, and community luminaries to explore the groundbreaking research in Charcot-Marie-Tooth disease and gene therapy taking place right here in our own backyard. This special event will support the CMT Research Foundation, an organization dedicated to funding crucial research for an inherited genetic disease that currently has no treatments or cures and affects over 3 million patients worldwide. Don't miss this opportunity to be part of a transformative conversation!
